ADA Suspension/Conduct Disclaimer:

YRT may refuse or suspend service when an individual engages in violent, seriously disruptive, or illegal conduct, or poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others, consistent with 49 CFR 37.5(h). However, YRT will not deny or suspend service solely because an individual's disability results in appearance or involuntary behavior that may offend, annoy, or inconvenience employees or other passengers. Conduct will be evaluated on an individual basis, including whether a reasonable modification can address or mitigate the behavior. YRT will not deny, suspend, or condition transportation solely because conduct is related to a person's disability. Before taking action, YRT will consider the specific circumstances, whether a reasonable modification would allow the individual to use the service safely, and whether the conduct constitutes a direct threat or otherwise permits denial of service under applicable ADA requirements. Conduct that is merely annoying, inconvenient, or offensive will not by itself, be grounds for denial or suspension of service.
